Munayer family update

Jack has been and is working for Musalaha. He is currently living in the Netherlands. We have asked him to share this with you, as he has asked us to pass on his messages to you. He has been giving us his insights on the situation.

When we reflect on the past, we can see that there is always a time of transition and change. This is when we have to make decisions that will have a lasting impact on our lives. We know that we are in a time of transition, and we are looking forward to seeing what the future holds.

In the New Testament, we see that Jesus came to bring salvation to the world. He was a threat to the status quo, and He faced resistance to His message. There were many that tried to silence Him, but He continued to speak His truth.

In reconciliation, we challenge the status quo. We do this by standing against any form of injustice, enmity, and socio-economic oppression. We do this by standing with the oppressed and God's call to be agents of liberation and reconciliation.

Let My People Go: The Challenge of Change

“But the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them a charge about the people of Israel and about Pharaoh king of Egypt, to bring the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt.” — Exodus 6:1

The stories of Moses and Jesus are the stories of a God who dares to dream. He dares to challenge the status quo. In many cases, this came at a great personal cost. Jesus was a threat to the status quo, and He faced resistance to His message. There were many that tried to silence Him, but He continued to speak His truth.
