OUR MISSION FOR YOUTH

Be part of the team that creates a ground for reaching three different groups of individuals:

Children (ages 8-12)

Youths/teenagers (ages 13-19)

Youth leaders (ages 19+)

Bringing these youths and youth leaders together within the format of Desert Encounters, Summer Camps, Reconciliation Leadership Trainings, and through Media is based on Musalaha's grand youth mission of

- Providing a forum for meetings on neutral ground, where youths have the opportunity to establish friendships and foster attitudes of love, peace and tolerance by teaching them the biblical principles of reconciliation.
- Training these youths in reconciliation leadership is a crucial part in seeing change in this region.
- Reaching a greater number of youth enabling, empowering, and equipping them to be peace agents and affect change in their communities.

WE OFFER

- Employment in a growing dynamic organization with a mission-driven and faith-based culture
- An international, multicultural team of professionals
- A few other pluses: competitive salary, flexible work schedule, in-the-field work

We believe in hiring smart people and getting out of their way. Our organization was founded by a vision of reconciliation and we place the highest emphasis on our Ministry's mission and our own people.

YOUR MISSION

Your main contribution will be to ensure a healthy and solid foundation for the youth program's growth.

You will do this by fostering an environment where youth can reach their best version of themselves and take an active role in positively impacting their society towards peace and reconciliation.

If you recognize yourself in this description, here's a sneak-peek of your day-to-day activity:

SCOPE OF ACTIVITIES

WE COUNT ON YOU TO...

- Make good use of various tools and activities that can support youth development to ensure proper engagement growth.
- Build go-to-action plans and guide youth teams and individuals in reaching their next level of development, based on Musalaha's Youth Curriculum.
- Act as guardian of the culture and values of Musalaha, by aligning all your initiatives and by connecting new ideas to trends and growth plans.
- Mediate different situations and act as facilitator for conflict management whenever it may rise.
- Identify youths' interests and group people around them, with the intent to create self-sustainable youth communities that can ensure additional engagement.
- Find creative, appropriate ways to engage youth and people at all levels.

QUALIFICATIONS

For you to reach results and satisfaction on this role, here are several things you need from the start:

- Experience on a similar position, preferably in a multicultural environment.
- Proficiency in using Word, Excel, PowerPoint.
- High level of maturity in taking decisions.
- Self-directed, results oriented, the ability to manage proactively frequently changing priorities.
- Excellent written and spoken English.

THAT'S YOU

- You have a genuine interest in constantly improving young peoples experience to establish friendships and foster attitudes of love, peace and tolerance and you understand the impact it has in reaching results in changing societies.
- You agree that youth engagement decisions are experience-driven and you know how to bring an objective view when building dialogue with different attitudes of enmity and disagreements.
- You earn trust from people around you by taking accountability of your actions and by always acting in a mature objective manner.
- You find it easy to embrace fast paced changes and you can think ahead when planning actions for building highly engaged youth teams.

LET'S TALK

If you like to think ahead like we do and give youth the freedom to be engaged, creative and human in their daily actions, then we must talk.
